CHRISTMAS IN CAMP

How the Day Was Spent by Uncle Sam's Marines.

Havana, Cuba, Dec. 26, 1906. Editor Gazette:—Christmas at Camp Columbia was celebrated in much the same way as it is celebrated all over the United States. We had everything but the Christmas tree. The weather was very cool, which made it seem more like Christmas. The turkey dinners were furnished by a subscription taken up among the boys on last pay-day. Each company managed their own dinner and the things they had to eat would make a man want to re-enlist. They had everything that belongs to a turkey dinner, and the dining halls were very tastefully decorated for the occasion. The Commanding Officer visited the halls during the noon hour and made the remark that he wished he would have as good a dinner. He congratulated Company F on having the finest table in the camp. We wish Christmas would come more frequently.

There were two ball games in the afternoon between two of the league teams of the camp. There are six teams in the league and all are playing fast ball, which is making the race very interesting. Up to date the Marines have not lost a game. Although the weather is not very much like baseball weather now, we hope we will soon have some summer weather. As the officers in the camp are playing on the different teams to which they belong, there is a great deal of excitement and interest attached to the outcome of the contests. The reward is to be a gold watch fob to each member of the winning team, given by the Havana Daily Post. We hope to see the Marines wearing the watch fobs. (So do we.)

During the present cold weather there are many amusing incidents take place about the time the boys are ready to go to bed. They have to invent all kinds of things to keep warm with as each man has only one blanket. You see some of them with all the clothes they have on, while one fellow got in a big sack and another fellow tied the top shut. He not only slept that night in the sack but most of the next day. He does not sleep in a sack any more.

In closing this letter, we will wish all the readers of the Gazette a very happy New Year and many of them. Vance L. Ealy. Co. F, U. S. M. C.

Greenbury Devore

At his residence four miles northwest of Hyndman, Greenbury Devore, one of the best known citizens of Londonderry township, was called from time to eternity Friday morning, December 28, 1906. The deceased was born on the James M. Kennel farm, in Londonderry township, three miles south of Hyndman, December 29, 1832. He lacked just one day of being 74 years old. On May 3, 1854, he was united in marriage to Drusilla Carpenter, who preceded him to the spirit world on March 15, 1897. Soon after his marriage Mr. Devore moved to a farm one-half mile south of Possibility and remained there until 1862 when he moved to Clay county, Ind. After one and one-half years' residence in that section he returned to his birthplace, remaining there for several years. In 1866 he purchased the William Bunnell farm in Tiger Valley, four miles northwest of Hyndman, where he has since resided.

The subject of this sketch was a noted hunter and skilled marksman, being an expert rifle shot and having killed, during his life time, sixty deer and numerous smaller game. He was a very industrious and successful farmer, being especially fond of fruit culture, to which he gave considerable attention. By his jovial disposition he gained a large circle of friends and was highly esteemed by his neighbors. The deceased is survived by two sons and three daughters, as follows: Levi C. and William P., both of Londonderry township; Susanna, wife of Frank Critchfield of Buffalo Mills; Martha, wife of John Morris of Meyersdale; and Amanda, wife of John H. Wagener of Hyndman. Funeral services were conducted in the M. E. church at Hyndman, by the pastor, Rev. J. W. H. Beale, Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock. A large audience was present to pay their last tribute of respect to the departed. The remains were taken to the Hyndman cemetery for interment.

Hyndman, January 1, '07.

A SEASON OF FESTIVITY

A Mighty Conflict Now Pending Between Capital and Labor—The Caruso Case—At Vaudeville.

New York, January 1.—The last night of holiday week ended our season of festivity, when the joy bells of old Trinity church announced without a tear or a pang at parting the death of 1906 and the birth of 1907, which was welcomed with a joyful jubilate from the waiting thousands that crowded the streets for many blocks around the famous old Cathedral. By the real old dyed-in-the-wool Knickerbocker, it is considered a sacred duty to see the old year out and the new year in, getting as near as they can possibly get to old Trinity church. Rain, shine, frost or snow make no difference; nothing short of a double decked typhoon or twenty-four hour earthquake could drive them from their post of duty.

Though 1906 has been one of the most prosperous in the mercantile and financial history of the Republic, the mechanical and agricultural rewards of labor have increased their returns to the mechanic and laborer to the satisfactory amount of four hundred and thirty-seven millions of dollars. The bitterest battle yet fought, has not been for an increase in pay or a reduction in the hours of labor, but for the recognition of their unions.

This is the absorbing question of the hour and one that must be settled before any other question can get a hearing. To the American citizen who loves his country, a Republic represents the highest and noblest form of human government among men; under its protecting eagle the rights of the humblest citizen are as secure as those of the multi-millionaire. A Despotism represents the lowest and most debased form of human government, because it is subject to no supervision or restraint; it acknowledges no rights, and no obligations to any power outside of its own will to which all men are expected to bow.

In the conflict now impending there is nothing more certain than this hard fact that as a matter of self preservation, force will be met with force, and while it may be true as a proverb that the race is not always to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, we must not forget that the Lord is generally on the side of those nations that can bring into the field the largest armies and the heaviest guns. The most astonishing fact that presents itself for contemplation is that all the colossal fortunes of the present age are held by men who started life without a dollar, and by the combination of circumstances over which they had no control, drifted into the mightiest aggregations of wealth recorded in the history of the world. All of the great fortunes that have amazed the present generation have been built up in the memory of living men and every strike that labor has made in the last forty years has added to their piles of silver and gold. In the great coal strike a few years ago, the coal barons were well protected; they knew the strike was bound to come, so put on an extra body of miners and they worked three shifts of eight hours each; they piled up thousands of tons and then sat quietly down like good citizens and waited for the golden harvest; it came on time and coal jumped up from three dollars and a half to eighteen and twenty dollars a ton; families of moderate means could not afford to buy a ton, bought it at twenty-five and thirty cents a pail full. Who was hurt, the coal barons? Not a bit of it; he got three and four times as much for the thousands of tons which he had mined during the summer; he clipped off the coupons from his U. S. bonds and saw them safely put away in the nice burglar-proof safe over the corner; then knelt down and thanked a kind Providence for the blessings so bountifully showered upon him and going over to the closet, he found a bottle of Hunter's finest Old Blue Grass; he took a nightcap of just five fingers, then brought his nightcap over his ears and jumped into bed; as he drifted into dreamland he was happy in the thought that he was at peace with all the world and was hopeful for another strike at the earliest possible date.

There is trouble among the leading Democrats and the fight is the bitterest that the party has known for years; under no circumstances will Mayor McClellan acknowledge the Democratic leadership of Charles T. Murphy. The Mayor has no war on the Tammany Organization as a political organization; inside of the Democratic party, Tammany Hall will be welcome but when it assumes Democratic leadership, with supreme power by Divine right, that is quite another thing. For the first time in its history Democrats of national reputation are beginning to ask who put the Democratic party of the State of New York under Hall? How did it get there, who put it there? At the present nobody seems to know; one thing they found out and that was, that the chairman of the executive committee handled all the cash. After the war Mr. Saupp moved to Loretta where he married Miss Matilda J. Myers. He was engaged in the mercantile business at that place for some years after which he moved to Altoona where he was engaged in the real estate business until four years ago when he moved to Pittsburgh where he has since lived a retired life.

His widow, four sons and two daughters survive. Requiem mass was held at Sacred Heart Catholic church Monday at 9:30 a. m.; interment was made in Calvary cemetery.

Jacob Otto

Jacob Otto died at his home at East Scottdale after a week's illness from neuralgia of the heart and stomach. Mr. Otto was born in Napier township on April 2, 1832, and died December 22, 1906, aged 74 years, eight months and 20 days. He resided in Bedford county the greater part of his life and was for several years a resident of New Paris. Prior to his death he expressed himself as trusting in the Lord. His wife preceded him in death on November 4, 1904. They raised a family of six sons and four daughters, all living—Mrs. J. K. Ridenour of Johnstown, Mrs. A. G. Carpenter of near Bedford, Pierson and George C. of near Fishertown, Mrs. Charles A. Bloom of New Paris, and Alex. R. William J., Harry B., Frank W. and Miss Mary L., of East Scottdale. He is survived by two brothers—Alex. Otto of New Paris and Daniel, who went west several years ago. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. S. Weaver, pastor of the M. E. church of Scottdale. Interment was made in the Baptist cemetery near Pennsylvania. We express our sympathy to the children in the death of their father whom they very much loved and cherished, especially in his declining years. Caj.

Good News

Look on page five and read the wonderful news. The greatest sale in the history of the county opens today at 9 a. m., at the Metropolitan Clothing and Shoe House of Bedford. The price-cutting in this sale is wonderful. Goods are almost being given away. This is certainly good news to the people of this county. This reliable firm is known to be great bargain-givers in this county. In this sale they are doing something that has never been done in modern merchandising in this section. Turn out everybody; crowd the store; show how you do appreciate good, big bargains—Metropolitan Clothing and Shoe House.

On Monday the County Commissioners appointed L. C. Miller of South Woodbury as Mercantile Appraiser for 1907.

Landlord Ritchey has improved the appearance of the National House at night by installing an incandescent lamp at the front.

The regular meeting of Mt. William Watson Post, 332 G. A. R., will be held on Tuesday, January 8, at 1:30 p. m. A full turn out is desired as installation of officers will take place, and Dr. A. Enfield will address the Post on the subject, "The Battle of New Orleans." Other important business will be transacted.

Baker; Treasurer, Joseph C. Smith; Librarian, Miss Margaret Ritchey; Organist, Miss Irene Corle; Assistant Organist, Miss Josephine Smith.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was the dance given in Dunkle's Hall on New Year's eve, by a number of the young people of town. Our popular musical organization, the Bedford Orchestra, furnished most excellent music for the occasion and were encored after nearly every selection, heartily responding every time they were called upon. An intermission was taken at half-past ten for refreshments, which were served in Allen's restaurant. The dancing was then continued until long after midnight.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OPENED

Organization Effected, Governor's Message Read—Adjournment.

Harrisburg, January 1.—The General Assembly of Pennsylvania today organized, listened to the reading of the Governor's biennial message, computed the vote for state officers at the last election, arranged for the inauguration of Governor-elect Stuart, two weeks hence, and then took a recess until January 14 to allow the presiding officers to make up the list of standing committees.

The real work of the session will begin immediately after Stuart's inauguration and the indications now are that the session will continue till early in May.

Neither the Senate nor the House will get down to work in earnest until after the committees have been appointed and the officers and employees selected.

The proceedings in both houses today were purely routine. An effort to secure the adoption of a resolution for an investigation of the new capitol was made in the House and failed on an objection that such resolutions were not in order at this time.

EVENTS IN 1906

A Year's Record From January to December.

DAILY HAPPENINGS.

Havoc of Storms, Volcanic Eruptions and Earthquakes.

A NOTABLE OBITUARY ROLL.

Losses of Life and Treasure by Fire, Accidents and Violences of Nature. Miscellaneous Affairs, Personal, Political and Sporting Items—A Chronological Review.

Destruction of life and property in both hemispheres caused by the forces of nature has been a notable characteristic of the year 1906. In March occurred the earthquake upheaval on the island of Formosa. Early in April Vesuvius burst forth, destroying life and property for miles around the volcanic mountain. A few days later the San Francisco earthquake and fire calamity startled the world with its almost unparalleled horrors.

In August an earthquake devastated the coast cities of Chile, causing heavy loss of life, especially in Valparaiso. In September a destructive typhoon swept over Hongkong and a cyclone caused great destruction on the gulf coast, notably at Mobile and Pensacola. A fierce West India hurricane in October destroyed life and property on the coasts of Venezuela, Honduras, Salvador and Cuba. Landslides, cloudbursts and floods, shipwrecks, fires and railway accidents added to the year's record of victims. It is estimated that over 50,000 lives were sacrificed the first ten months by the manifestations of nature's fury and the accidents of travel on sea and land.

The obituary record of the year includes Carl Schurz, Mrs. Jefferson Davis, Henrik Ibsen, General Joseph Wheeler, General William R. Shafter, Senator Arthur Pue Gorman, Christian IX. of Denmark, Adelaide Ristori, John Lawrence Toole, Russell Sage and Marshall Field.

A Woman's Health

Is a heritage too sacred to be experimented with. For her peculiar and delicate ailments only medicines of known composition and which contain no alcohol, narcotics, or other harmful or habit-forming drugs should be employed. Such a medicine is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy with a record of over forty years of cures to recommend it; a remedy, the makers of which print its formula on every bottle wrapper and attest its completeness and correctness under oath; a remedy devised and adapted to woman's delicate constitution by an educated physician—an experienced specialist in woman's diseases; a remedy, every ingredient of which has received the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar diseases; a remedy which has more bona-fide cures to its credit than any other sold by druggists for woman's ailments. It is not given away in the form of trial bottles to be experimented with, but is sold at a fair price by all dealers in medicines.

If a woman has bearing down, or dragging pains, low down in the abdomen, or pelvis, backache, frequent headaches, dizzy or fainting spells, is nervous and easily startled, has growing feeling in chest, sees imaginary floating specks, or spots before her eyes, has melancholia, or "blues," or a weakening disagreeable drain from pelvic organs, she can make no mistake by resorting to the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It will invigorate and tone up the whole system and especially the pelvic organs.

No woman suffering from any of the above symptoms can afford to accept any secret nostrum or medicine of unknown composition, as a substitute for a medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is of known composition and has a record of over forty years and sells more largely to-day than ever before. Its makers withhold no secrets from their patients, believing open publicity to be the very best guaranty of merit.

Dr. Pierce invites all suffering women to consult him by letter free of charge. All letters of consultation are held as strictly confidential and an answer is returned in plain sealed envelope. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

WHERE PRAIRIE BREEZES BLOW

Gerard W. Sinclair in The Bohemian for January.

Oh, the scent of the sage comes drifting down on the breath of a prairie breeze.

From the plains where the bunchgrass ripples brown, like the waves of the summer seas.

And the dear, sweet smell of the hillside pines, and the cottonwoods that grow

In canyons deep, comes home to me when the west winds gently blow.

I can see the bulk of a milling herd in the rainclouds massing black (By the angry breath of the storm-wind stirred) and riders on its track;

I can hear the rush of a mad stampede when the lightnings flash and glow,

And wild hoofs beating the prairie sod, when the stirring west winds blow.

Oh, for the feel of a braided rein and the plunge of a prairie steed,

And the brave, true hearts that the open plain and the wind-swept mountains breed.

Oh, for the days on the long divides, and nights by the camp-fire's glow,

Hard on the trail of the herds that roam where the prairie breezes blow.

GIRLS, BE NEAT

Only Persistent Training Develops Bump of Neatness

Neatness is one of the most attractive of feminine qualities. It is also one of the rarest.

Early and persistent must be the training which carries the girl into womanhood with her "bump of neatness" well developed. Unless inherently fastidious during schooldays, she is liable to drift into careless habits which she never outgrows. One girl may have a trick of leaving shoes about her room. As a mere tot she was permitted to do this, and as she grew older the untidy custom was never abandoned, for the simple reason that she herself did not notice anything unusual about it, and probably nobody else took the trouble to correct her. Another slovenly habit is leaving a bunch of combings in her comb or on her dressing table, says Woman's Life. Constant vigilance on a woman's part is necessary in these small traits, unless she would be judged unworthy her birthright—daintiness.

An Insidious Danger

One of the worst features of kidney trouble is that it is an insidious disease and before the victim realizes his danger he may have a fatal malady. Take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first sign of trouble as it corrects irregularities and prevents Bright's disease and diabetes. Ed. D. Heckerman.

"Pineules" (non-alcoholic) made from resin from our Pine Forests used for hundreds of years for Bladder and Kidney diseases. Medicine for thirty days, $1.00. Guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. Get our guarantee coupon from Irvine's Drug Store.

Useful to Know

A strong solution of salt and warm water applied to bandages will be found very useful for sprains and bruises when nothing better is at hand.

A veil should not be worn more than a week without cleaning. The particles of dust which accumulate on a veil in a week's time are ruinous to the complexion.

Persons predisposed toward erysipelas should avoid wines, strong tea and coffee, and highly spiced or seasoned foods. The more laxative and cooling the diet the better.

Children with a tendency to scrofula and consumption need an abundance of fresh out-door air. Making tomboys of them is favorable to securing needed physical development.

When the body is in good condition keep it in good condition by denying the appetite what has once injured the body. Eat the right sort of food, but not too much of it, and let harmful food alone.

Nearly every person who is subject to attacks from the stomach suffers from a morbid dread of a dietetic treatment for relief, that is three-fourths starvation, and one-fourth toast and milk. On the other hand you can eat as you please and digest the food by the aid of a good digestant, thus giving the tired stomach equally as much rest. Eat what you please and take a little Kodol For Indigestion after your meals. It digests what you eat. Sold by Ed. D. Heckerman.

TORTURING PAIN.

Half This Man's Sufferings Would Have Killed Many a Person, But Doan's Cured Him.

Thousands of grateful people are telling every day how Doan's Kidney Pills cured them of distressing and dangerous kidney and bladder troubles.

Yet other thousands are suffering every day from those same ills. Why? They are either very negligent or very skeptical. Neglect of kidney disorders leads to dropsy, diabetes, Bright's disease and other fatal diseases.

Sincere, honest testimony like the following should convince every skeptic.

A. C. Sprague, stock dealer, of Normal, Ill., writes: "For two whole years I was doing nothing but buying medicines to cure my kidneys. I do not think that any man ever suffered as I did and lived. The pain in my back was so bad that I could not sleep at night. I could not ride a horse and sometimes was unable even to ride in a car. My condition was critical when I sent for Doan's Kidney Pills. I used three boxes and they cured me. Now I can go anywhere and do as much as anybody. I sleep well and feel no discomfort at all."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Sprague will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

SARSAPARILLA PILLS. CHERRY PECTORAL.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

Fill a bottle of common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

There is count on this knowledge of the fact that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, cures all kidney troubles, whether in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It has a special ability to hold water in the bladder in passing it, or had it been the use of liquor, wine or beer, it overcomes that unpleasant condition of being compelled to go often during the day and night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., Home of Swamp-Root.

The New York World

THIRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

Read Wherever the English Language is Spoken.

The Thrice-a-Week World, now that a great Presidential campaign is foreshadowed, hopes to be a better paper than it has ever been before, and it has made its arrangements accordingly. Its news service covers the entire globe, and it reports everything fully, promptly and accurately. It is the only newspaper, not a daily, which is as good as a daily, and which will keep you as completely informed of what is happening through out the world.

The Thrice-a-Week World is fair in its political reports. You can get the truth from its columns, whether you are a Republican or Democrat, and that is what you want.

A special feature of the Thrice-a-Week World has always been its serial fiction. It publishes novels by the best authors in the world, novels which in book form sell for $1.50 apiece, and its high standard in this respect will be maintained in the future as in the past.

THE THIRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and The Gazette together for one year for $2.20.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.50.

THAT STREET LIGHT PROBLEM

There is a great deal of talk, pro and con, as to continuing to light the streets of Bedford with electricity. There has been no contract between the Town Council and the Light Company for several years, save that the company has been authorized, from month to month to continue the lighting.

The time has now come when the matter must be settled, for the present arc lights, which have done service for 13 years, are no longer reliable. While burning they are entirely satisfactory, but their frequent going out is a source of great annoyance to the company and to the citizens of the town. The present arc lights cannot be replaced, for they are no longer manufactured because of their intricacy of construction and of the amount of current necessary to operate them.

If the Light Company are to continue to light the streets they must put in a new system at an expense of about $2,000. This they agreed to do, provided they could secure a five-years' contract, at the rate of $4.75 per arc light per month, 50 cents per light less than they are now receiving. The Council rejected the proposal, but passed a resolution offering the light company $4.50 per light per month for a period of three years and exempting the company from taxes on poles and wires. The company has decided to accept this proposal of the Council and will present a formal contract to the Council at the next regular meeting for the official signatures.

A petition is now being circulated which asks the Council not to sign a contract for more than one year, which virtually means take down the arc lights, for every business man in town knows that the Light Company cannot afford to install a new system of lamps with no assurance of their being in operation more than one year, and with the open boast of some citizens that if a gas company comes here the arc lights will be dispensed with.

A few years ago the town had a trial of gasoline lighting. Do they want to return to it? When a few weeks ago a proposition to install gasoline lamps was made, the vote in Council was a tie for gasoline (five members being present), the President of the Council cast the vote against returning to gasoline.

We have given a fair and impartial statement of the facts as they exist and refrain from comment other than to say that gas lamps would be but little superior to gasoline lamps of which the town has had a trial.

The Gazette would welcome a gas company to the town for heating and house-lighting purposes, but it would not advocate the use of gas lamps on the streets, for while they would likely increase the work of the Policeman and the Court and the Committing Magistrates, we are not willing to believe that they would be conducive to the best interests of the town by safeguarding women and children, nor would they raise the moral standard.

Bedford Cemetery Association

The annual meeting of the Corporation of the Bedford Cemetery Association was held on Tuesday. Rudolph Wolff was elected a Corporator to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of John V. Kimberling was again chosen as manager of grounds and J. Reed Irvine as superintendent of grounds.

lout amounted to millions; honest Democrats, August Belmont and Samuel Tilden were disgusted with the power they could neither reform nor destroy; they retired from the company of the disreputable gang that was disgracing the name Democrat and let the election go by default.

A singular feature enters into the present fight that would make a horse laugh; we have here a pair of "dyed-in-the-wool" Democrats "warranted to wash" and "thirty-six inches to the yard." They are the representatives of the clan of Sullivan and are known as "Big Tim" and "Little Tim." Their ballwick in which they live is Irish and Big Tim or Little Tim take a family interest in all the people and when election day came around, "Big Tim" saw to it that his people did their duty; when the fight was over all he had to do was to tell the chairman of the executive committee how many places he wanted in the street-sweeper's gang and the Laborers' Union and he got what he wanted every time. When the difficulty occurred between Mayor McClellan and Charles T. Murphy, "Big Tim" thought the Mayor was going to win, so he gave his life-long friend, Mr. Murphy (the grand bono and walked straight into the McClellan camp. Thinking that things were about the same as they were in Tammany, he began to look after the appointments. The Mayor listened but no appointments came, so "Big Tim" seized his grip-sack and he and Little Tim are enjoying a love feast with their friend, Charles T. Murphy, at Tammany Hall, and they promise to make it lively for the Mayor between now and the November Ides.

It was somewhat of a surprise when the appeal was taken in the Caruso case to find the judgment of the lower court was sustained that found Caruso guilty. The case will now go to the Court of Appeals and if the judgment is sustained there it will leave the favorite tenor in very bad shape.

A very funny incident took place at one of our vaudeville houses which has kept the whole town in a roar. A woman was singing "Oh Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight." A little squeaky voice rang out, "I guess you will find him in de Monkey House." Broadbrim.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment.

Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by Dr. J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Giving Free Examinations of Eyes.

Headaches overcome by their wonderful system. Prices from $2 to $8. All lenses guaranteed for two years. No one urged to buy, and all will be treated courteously whether an order is given or not.

WE DO NOT PEDDLE

Those wishing to consult this firm will please call at the hotel. This firm of eye-sight specialists make regular visits to 22 counties in Pennsylvania and Ohio and from now on will visit Bedford every 3 months. All lenses are guaranteed for 2 years and any change needed within that time will be made free of charge. The overcoming of headaches is one of our specialties, and in no case where we have prescribed glasses for this trouble have we had a failure.

back of your neck and shoulders which is thought to be neuralgia; a ringing and roaring in the head; blood-shot eye-balls, a sticking or burning sensation, a feeling as though sand was in your eyes, a nauseating feeling of the stomach, producing vomiting spells, loss of appetite and irritability. Thereby money spent for prescriptions and medicine to cure your headache, neuralgia, nervousness, and stomach trouble is simply money thrown away. What you want is a properly ground lens to overcome the muscular and nervous strains thus placing your eyes in a perfect focus which produces a complete state of rest. Then you have removed the cause and your headache ceases for good.

HOW SLEEPLESSNESS IS CAUSED

And the Cause Not Even Suspected by the Sufferer.

WHAT CAUSES HEADACHES?

Astigmatism is not a disease, but a defect in the shape of the eyeball such as irregularities in the curvatures of the cornea and crystalline lens. Astigmatism necessitates an irregular strain upon the muscles in adjusting for different objects, thus causing an exhaust of nerve energy, consequently you may readily see why this abnormal condition produces nervousness.

Can you not see that the constant drain on your nerve supply weakens the entire nervous system and they end in many cases in complete nervous prostration! In fact there is no defect in the eye which causes more discomfort and suffering than astigmatism and yet a peculiar feature about astigmatism is, the people who have it seldom know that anything is wrong with their eyes. They attribute all their suffering to some other cause.

They believe they can see as well as anyone and in a good many cases they can, but the overwork is going on just the same and the exhaust supply thus affects the brain, and when you disturb the brain you have pained the highest seat and center of the whole nervous system; consequently you have a daily headache, also pains extending down the

Many suffer from headache and nervousness that do not suspect the cause. The nerves that control the eye have direct connection with the most vital parts of the human system. Continued strain on these nerves keeps them in such a weakened condition that they have to call on the force of other nerves to keep them supplied. In that way the strain is carried to all the nerves, and will in time exhaust them all.

Properly fitted glasses will release the strain and give the system a chance to build up.

Cheap glasses are not cheap. You have to buy too often. What makes a pair of glasses valuable is the length of time you see through them with comfort, the skill in fitting them and not the frames. We are thoroughly conversant with the interior of the eye, it has no secrets from us. We can correct the vision of any eye in which the light enters. We are pleased when we have cases on which others have failed. We have corrected many where others have failed and there are many more that need to be corrected. It costs nothing to call and find out what can be done for you, and learn the truth about your eyes.

MOUNTAIN CLIMBING

Gazette Correspondent Describes Grandeur of Western Highlands.

Editor Gazette:—I am six thousand feet nearer the sky than you are. One can see the Rockies best from the saddle and the Indian trail is the principal highway. The general impression of any particular trail is born rather of the little incidents than of the big accidents. All that nature has she shows to him who rides the trail. She hides her choice things from the railway, the turnpike and the lane. The Indian laid his trail by the conjunction of stars and mountain peaks. It is never direct, but always indirect.

Your saddle is your point of vantage. By it you are elevated above the country and as your day's travel unrolls, you see many things. Quail scuttles away to right and left, heads ducked low. Grouse boom solemnly on the rigid limbs of pines, deer vanish through distant tickets, to appear on yet more distant ridges. Your senses are always alert for these things. You are always bending from your saddle to examine the tracks and signs that continually offer themselves for your inspection and interpretation.

As we follow the trail up we enter the permanent dwelling place of the seasons. The air tastes cold, but the sun is warm. A little higher and we are wallowing in the snow. Here the birds migrate up and down instead of north and south. It must be a great saving of trouble to them. Here we obtain a most magnificent view. First there are plains, then the foot-hills, the brush hills, the pine mountains, the upper timber, the tremendous granite peaks and finally the main crest with its glittering snow.

But the trail of the mountains means more than wonder. It means hard work. There is a lot to be seen and enjoyed in a mountain mile. Through the high country two miles an hour is a fair rate of speed. For all the toll the mountains take of a man, it gives compensations, deep breath, deep sleep, and the communion of the stars.

Down in the gulch we make our camp. It has been the home of the miner, long cradles for the separation of gold, decayed rockers and some of the old cabins still stand. By the dancing flames of the camp-fire we eat our third dinner for the day. In mountains all meals are dinners and formidable ones at that. We tell stories, smoke the pipe of peace, and as the chill creeps down from the eternal snows, prepare for bed. The soft woolen blankets, close about our chin, would insure a night's sleep were it not for the coyote, that lean hobo of the hills, who sits on his haunches and howls and howls. High as the camp may be, so it is not above timber-line, it is not too high for the coyote, the bobcat, or the wolf. Both the red fox and the coyote are free of the night hours and both killers for the pure love of slaughter. The fox is no great talker, but the coyote goes garrulously through the dark, in twenty keys at once, gossip, warning and abuse.

In memory, the pleasures of a camping trip strengthen with time and the disagreeables weaken. We in the east have no standards of comparison, either as regards size or grandeur of this western country. I cannot tell about them for the simple reason that the reader would think that I must be carried away by the swing of words. The cold, sober truth is, you can't exaggerate. They haven't made the words. I confess to trifling attempts in decorative art, a tiny dash of color, the least bit of embroidery just to round a corner and give a little life to dullness, but not now. There came a point where the fact grew to be almost too big for the appreciation, just as beyond a certain point speed seems to become unbearable.

While viewing a distant valley with my two companions we spoke of how fine it would be to ride down into that land of mystery and enchantment, to penetrate, one after another, the canons dimly outlined in the shadows, east by the westerling sun, to cross the mountains lying outspread in easy grasp of the eye, to gain the distant blue ridge and see with our own eyes what lay beyond. The extent of our mental vision expanded. We heard of other mountains far beyond these farthest mountains whose almost unexplored vastnesses contained great forests, mighty valleys, strong water-courses, beautiful hanging meadows, deep canons of granite, eternal snow, mountains so extended, so wonderful, that their secrets offered whole summers of solitary exploration.

Of such is the trail, of such its wonders, its pleasures, its little comforts, its annoyances, its dangers. Of such is the web and woof of our little trip. But through it ran the pattern of fantastic delight such as the west alone can offer. The trail of the mountains and the trail of life alike lead always on and on, into the higher country of responsibility until at the last it leaves us at the summit of the Great Divide. A. Decker.

Scribner's Twenty-First Year

With the January number, 1907, Scribner's Magazine enters upon its twenty-first year. Its very first issue was a notable one in the history of modern periodical literature and established its position at once as a worthy expression of the best traditions of the house that published it. No better statement of the policy of the Magazine today could be made than the one that appeared in the January number for 1887:

"The Magazine will be in the widest sense a magazine of general literature; and its main purpose will be to bring together not only good reading, but literature of lasting value. Each number will be fully and handsomely illustrated by the best work of the leading artists, engraved in the most skillful manner, or reproduced by the best methods known. The pictures will be in the best sense illustrative of the text; and the artistic side of the Magazine will represent the most spirited, sincere, and original work in this field."

Then as now the magazine field seemed already fully occupied, and the new venture was not without its critics who predicted a way of difficulty, if not of actual failure. Since Scribner's began publishing a host of competitors has arisen, each with its special following and with various claims upon the public attention; but convincing proof of the public appreciation of the Scribner policy of maintaining an undeviating high standard has been amply given by the constant growth in the number of its readers and in the volume of its advertising patronage.

The Evils of Constipation

are many; in fact almost every serious illness has its origin in constipation, and some medicines, instead of preventing constipation, add to it. This is true of most cathartics, which when first used, have a beneficial effect, but the dose has to be continually increased, and before long the remedy ceases to have the slightest effect. There is one preparation, however, that can be relied upon to produce the same results with the same dose, even after fifty years' daily use, and this is Brandreth's Pills, which has a record of over 100 years as the standard remedy for constipation and all troubles arising from an impure state of the blood.

Brandreth's Pills are the same fine laxative tonic pill your grandparents used and can be found in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

January 4 in History

1789—Benjamin Lundy, philanthropist and abolitionist, born in Warren county, N. J.; died 1839. Lundy established an antislavery association in 1815. He published an abolition paper in Baltimore. Among other means of suppressing slavery he advocated the boycott against all products from slave labor.

1882—John William Draper, M. D., American philosophic writer, died; born 1811. Dr. Draper was a native of England. His most noted works were "History of the Civil War in America" and "A History of the Conflict Between Religion and Science."

1894—Elizabeth Palmer Peabody, American educator and reformer, died in Boston; born 1805.

1906—William Harrison Weir, illustrator of birds and animals, died in Lewes, England; born 1823. Earthquake shock at Masaya, Nicaragua.

It digests what you eat, and corrects deficiencies of the digestion. Kodol conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold here by Ed. D. Heckerman.

Bee's Laxative Cough Syrup containing Honey and Tar is especially appropriate for children, no opiates or poisons of any character, conforms to the conditions of the National Pure Food and Drug Law, June 30, 1906. Greatest Foe to Physical Beauty

If I were asked what was the greatest foe to beauty, in both man and woman, I would say, not errors in diet, not lack of exercise, not overwork, not corsets, not any one of these, but bad mental habits. If we observe closely the faces of the people we meet at random on the street, at the theater or in the great shops, we will observe that nearly all of them are characterized by the lined mouth, the drawn brows and other facial disfigurements which accompany bad mental states.

What do I mean by bad mental states? I mean anger, fear, worry, anxiety, irritability, regret, envy, jealousy, lack of trust in oneself and in the Great Good—all these are bad mental states; and all these destroy beauty, not only by interfering with the action of the vital organs, but by directly disfiguring the expression of the face.

Unless the beauty seeking young woman is prepared to deliberately cultivate good nature, kindness, calmness, cheerfulness even to hilarity—unless she is prepared to deliberately conquer all tendencies to the bad mental states above mentioned, there will be little or no results from her efforts to develop in herself that most divine gift of beauty.—From "Health the Basis of Womanly Beauty," by Dr. W. R. C. Latson, in The Outing Magazine for January.

Drop by drop the offensive discharge caused by Nasal Catarrh falls from the back of the nose into the throat, setting up an inflammation that is likely to mean Chronic Bronchitis. The certain, rational cure for Catarrh is Ely's Cream Balm, and the relief that follows even the first application cannot be told in words. Don't suffer a day longer from the discomfort of Nasal Catarrh. Cream Balm is sold by all druggists for 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

Mothers who give their children Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup invariably indorse it. Children like it because the taste is so pleasant. Contains Honey and Tar. A POOR ORGAN

Dam's the bile. That's what your liver does if it's torpid. Then the bile overflows into the blood—poisons your system, causing slowness, biliousness, sallow skin, headache, tongue, sick stomach, dizziness, fainting spells, etc. Ramon's treatment of Liver Pills and Tonic Pellets strengthens the liver and makes it do its own work. Prevents and cures these troubles. It aids—doesn't force. Entire treatment 25c.—J. R. Irvine & Co.

Don't Let Your Past Spoil Your Future.

There is nothing more depressing than dwelling upon lost opportunities or a misspent life. Whatever your past has been, forget it. If it throws a shadow upon the present, or causes melancholy or despondency, there is nothing in it which helps you, there is not a single reason why you should retain it in your memory and there are a thousand reasons why you should bury it so deeply that it can never be resurrected.

The future is your uncut block of marble. Beware how you smite it. Don't touch it without a program. Don't strike a blow with your chisel without a model, lest you ruin and mar forever the angel which lives within the block; but the past marble, which you have carved into hideous images, which have warped and twisted the Heals of your youth, and caused you infinite pain need not ruin or mar the uncut block before you. This is one of the merciful provisions that every day presents to every human being, no matter how unfortunate his past, a new uncut block of pure Parian marble, so that every day every human being has a new chance to retrieve the past, to improve upon it if he will.

Nothing is more foolish, more positively wicked than to drag the skeletons of the past, the hideous images, the foolish deeds, the unfortunate experiences of the past into to-day's work to mar and spoil it. There are plenty of people who have been failures up to the present moment who could do wonders in the future if they could only forget the past, if they only had the ability to cut it off, to close the door on it forever and start anew.—O. S. Marden, in Success Magazine.

Clear up the complexion, cleanse the liver and tone the system. You can best do this by a dose or two of DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Safe, reliable little pills with a reputation. The pills that everyone knows. Recommended by Ed. D. Heckerman.

Disturbed the Congregation

The person who disturbed the congregation last Sunday by continually coughing is requested to buy a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. Ed. D. Heckerman.

The Observances of Society

It is important in note-writing to provide one's self with good paper, pens and ink. This suggestion, at the start, may seem obvious to many persons, but the neglect of these small details is shown very often in correspondence. Plain white or cream paper, rather thick in quality and unruled, is in good taste. A double sheet is used, and is folded once and enclosed in an envelope to fit. It is inexcusable to use half sheets or sheets torn from a pad, or to use very thin or transparent paper, or paper with fancy or open-work bordering. Pens should be broad-nibbed, rather than pointed, and black ink is the only ink allowable. It is unpardonable to write a note or address an envelope in pencil.

In all letter-writing it is advisable to avoid a long preamble, or an explanation as to the cause of writing. It is best to begin immediately with the subject. If writing a business note it is desirable to make it concise.—From The Ladies' World for January.

Special Announcement Regarding the National Pure Food and Drug Law

We are pleased to announce that Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds and lung troubles is not affected by the National Pure Food and Drug law as it contains no opiates or other harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe remedy for children and adults. Ed. D. Heckerman.

Two days' treatment free. Ring's Dyspepsia Tablets for impaired digestion, impure breath, perfect assimilation of food, increased appetite. Do not fail to avail yourself of the above offer. Sold by Irvine's Drug Store.

Most people know that if they have been sick they need Scott's Emulsion to bring back health and strength.

But the strongest point about Scott's Emulsion is that you don't have to be sick to get results from it.

It keeps up the athlete's strength, puts fat on thin people, makes a fretful baby happy, brings color to a pale girl's cheeks, and prevents coughs, colds and consumption.

Food in concentrated form for sick and well, young and old, rich and poor.

And it contains no drugs and no alcohol.

In this day and generation every woman needs heavy weight shoes, ones which will keep out the dampness. Rubbers will not take the place of such shoes, as they draw the feet, making them very uncomfortable. Besides being so disagreeable, they are a perfect nuisance to put on and take off. There is an increasing demand for heavy weight shoes and we are now showing a splendid line of them. You had better select a pair today.

OLD HOME WEEK

Cumberland Delegation Will, if Necessary, Walk to Bedford.

Cumberland Alleganians Office, Cumberland, Md., Dec. 28, 1906.

Editor Gazette,

In reading The Gazette today I notice that M. P. Heckerman is behind the gun shooting up a homecoming. It is a good thing, push it along. We only travel this way once in a lifetime; why not have an oasis in the desert? Invite the boys and girls all home. Have a big day of it in Bedford; give a big free dinner; that will bring them, then they can go to their respective old homes. Select a good place for a big table. Use the public square. It won't hurt it. They will leave the earth there and it will be a blessing to the town socially, and financially, too, if managed right. Have addresses, songs, and make the old Bedford welkin ring. Everybody will be glad to come and contribute a pound toward the homecoming. The merchants will contribute, the farmers will bring fat baskets, the ladies will do the rest. There are dozens of us here in Cumberland; it is not far, we can walk and the others ride. Here are C. L. Bretz, A. A. Egolf, Charles Otto, H. T. Mullin and the "dickens" only knows how many more—enough to make a big delegation to walk out through Cumberland Valley and get there for dinner if they walk good and fast. On The Gazette's mailing list, no doubt there are hundreds of names of persons who have gone from Bedford county. We have on the Cumberland Alleganians mail list quite a number whose names we can furnish to whom invitations can be sent. Let everybody in the county and their friends work it up, talk it up, boom it up and keep it up till the great day comes. Philip's Boy.

P. S. Some of The Gazette readers may think I have died once but they will find out when that big day comes off that I have only been mistaken.
